It's working perfectly. Sometimes I have to re-actibite it, but I think the app might be for something that has been updated. Nevertheless, I have not experienced any problems with it at this time. Changed the rating from 1 star to 5 stars. I just downloaded this app to stream on my Roku. If you try to register, you will continue to receive an error immediately after you accept the policy. It doesn't go any further. This will tell you that there are some serious problems with the app as described by many users who gave it a low rating if I have a problem before using it! Just raise your head. This is one of the worst Privacy Policy and Terms of Use I have ever read. Please read through them carefully. When it comes to every thing you do online on your phone, they will track it, save it and share it once you agree with their service. It then began to open information to people who decided to share it with Showtime, including your internet browsing, online purchases, and all online activities on your phone. This information can be shared with contacts of Facebook, Google, and other companies that Showtime has signed up with at this time or in the future. These indicate that you can adjust your privacy settings at your partner's company. However, you can't adjust your privacy settings. Of course, we don't know how many partners are sharing your information. Unbelievably, I love showtime content, but absolutely no one in my house uses this app until they have lost me as an online customer and they offer the ability to choose to share your information with their partners. If it is possible to sign away any form of privacy to see the online content you can already see at home, I would give you 0 stars. Absolutely crazy. We'd like to talk to you further and see how we can improve our SHOWTIME experience for you. Visit showtime.com/help for customer support contact options. Wow, from reading other reviews I believe showtime is using this app to sell our information. This is why. Someone mentions the app's permission and terms of use and gives access to a whole lot of personal information that can be used to make unwanted money for it needs. 2. You must have the app to activate the smart TV. There is no other way.It says activation needs to be reactivated every week or so. This will keep the app on your phone. Provides showtime access to all sensitive data. Bravo Showtime. Make a great money!!! I'll check with others what they think about this. Really unsendng know you need to download the app to activate the device. Other providers have simple Web pages that do this. You want me to take my cell phone room crazy. Also, my stepmother doesn't even know how to install the app. I'm sure a lot of people have failed trying to activate their TV and quit from frustration. What if your very bad luck and your phone is broken? The elderly also sometimes have flipphones and do not have data. Anyone who thinks this is a good idea should be fired. OK it's great to have this as an option, but follow from all the other network examples and use web pages. People are familiar with it. If you want to share more information about the SHOWTIME experience, we'd like to hear from you. Visit showtime.com/help to find customer support contact options. We look forward to hearing from you!
